The Coming Circuit Court.

This morning Clerk McCallum received a letter from Judge Wilkin, stating that he would be in Decatur on Monday, Dec.
3, and open the December term of the circuit court, which, though with a light docket, promises to be long drawn out, as it is the first of the season docketed will be contested. The docket is now posted, show 78 old and new cases on the chancery docket; 90 old and new common law cases, and 35 old criminal cases—making a total of 203 cases. When the grand jury gets to work the number of People's cases will be augmented to a hundred or more, but it is not probable that either John Adams, Harry Griffin or John Thomas will go to trial at the coming term of court. There are at present 18 prisoners in the county jail.

Attorney McCarty's Opinion.

The attention of the REPUBLICAN has been called to a matter of importance, Mrs. Ada H. Kopley, of Kellington, has called upon Attorney General McCarty to render an opinion with reference to the sale of indecent publications in Illinois, and the attention of the attorney to such papers as the Police Gazette, Police News, the Illustrated Times, and like papers. Attorney McCarty states that the sale of such papers should be impressed, and in summing up the case he says:

"It is, therefore, the duty of the courts to the youth of both sexes, to the and are more dangerous to their future happiness than would be pictures entirely which made pictures would not be tolerated for a moment."

The penalty for violating the law as defined by the attorney is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, besides imprisonment in the county jail. A test case is now in order.

Important Sale.

The U. C. Crocker residence now property on West William street, at present occupied by J. H. Lewis and family, was today sold to Mr. H. Eugene Pratt, the grain commission merchant. The lot has a south frontage of 30 feet and is 100 feet deep. The two-story frame dwelling has 9 or 10 rooms. We learn that Mr. Pratt got the property for a little over $4,000, and will take possession as soon as Mr.
Lewis can conveniently vacate.

Davenport will open a new bank tomorrow. They will have more need of a new and larger church if they keep Bro.
Harrison there much longer. The center is being gathered in by the twentys and fifties.

Touch on Joliet.

The announcement is made that all the manufacturers of barrel wire in Joliet will shortly remove their factories to Messouri and other western points within the jurisdiction of Judge Tread, whose recent decision in St. Louis declaring the Washburn patents invalid, protects all the manufacturers there from interference and payment of royalty. This will result in throwing out between five hundred and one thousand workmen.

Notice.

All members of the Local Assembly, No.
2435, K. of L., who are expected to attend our fair and festival are requested to be at the fairgrounds to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock. By order of committee and M. W.

"Pop"—Surprise Party—"Pop."

Saturday evening we are to have Rice's celebrated Surprise Party in "Pop." Of the company and play a Wheeling paper of the 8th said:

The place has no plot, and pretends to present its aim is to amuse and entertain for an evening, and it did it with rare success last night. The company is even and selected with unusual skill, each member fitting his part up to the part had been made for him. Mr. Fitzgerald is immense as a comedian, Mr. James H.
Stuart a whole show in himself with his marvelous bass voice and excellent foot, and all the ladies are both attractive in person and pleasing in voice. "The spectacle" who and operate potpourri caught the house as a Wheeling house is seldom lost. "The Dukes," as presented by Misses Dole and Kishel, played a fine Lillian Spencer and Mollie Miller, were a special hit, while denture Miss Dem-psey's "For Goodness Sake, don't say I told you" was unexcelled again and again.
Miss Fuller's recitation of a song in dances were both fine, the latter suggesting that Minnie Palmer had better come back from England and look to her laurels.
The operatic medley at the close was very good.

For the Poor.

The advent of cold weather has called attention to the fact that there is quite a good deal of suffering among the poor, and that the demands upon the charity of the well-to-do for the winter will not be trifling. It has been suggested that a charity ball be given on Thanksgiving night. Who will take the matter in hand?

Another For Sale.

It took place to-day. John S. Barrett, of Louisville, Ky., sold to Joseph S. Tull, of Decatur, the north half and southeast quarter of section 28, town 15, range 2, east in Mason township, 191 acres. Consideration, $24,700, less the right of way for the Illinois Central railroad company.
The sale was made by Lefforge & Bro., real estate dealers.

Don't Forget.

"That we show the most complete stock of ladies' misses' and children's Wmgs in the city. We have hundreds of them embracing all kinds, makes and qualities.
We sell them low—lower than any other in the city. We know this to be a fact from daily observation. See and price them. CHERRY STREET, Big 18.

THE BAIN TEN STORE.

A H. P. BAIN TEN STORE, 1100
10th St. Chicago.

"How can my money be made by selling tea and collect alone?" That is a question which has perhaps often occured to the thinking. The answer is plain and simple. The Bain Ten Coffee Company has 51 stores in the different towns and cities of this country, and buys in great quantities for all these stores alike. It imports its tea direct from China and Japan, thus saving by the commission the profits of the importer, the large jobber and wholesale merchant.
As a consequence, said Mr. Davidson, the manager, "we are able to sell tea from 20 to 25 cents a pound, and our coffee from eight cents less than is regularly charged here. Besides our store contains a fine assortment of china, majolica and glassware, which is given away to all purchasers of tea and coffee. We have every grade of tea and every grade of coffee, from the common kinds up to the finest in the market, and our prices are always the lowest."

The Bain Ten store is on the south side of the park, adjoining Polkdevor, Burrows & Co's bank. It is finely fitted up, and a careful woman who is at all times there, whether they intend to purchase or not.

A Celebrated Case.

The arguments of opposing counsel in the somewhat celebrated case of John Sawyer and Wm. Schroll against the commissioners of the Stevens Creek Special Drainage District, were made in the county court Tuesday before Judge Greer and the jury. The speech-making was opened by C. A. Ewing, for the defendants, and he was followed by I. A. Buckingham and T. L. Mills, for the plaintiffs.
The closing argument was made by E. P.
Vail, for the defendants, when Judge Greer gave his instructions to the jury.
The plaintiffs claim that they should not pay the assessments made by the commissioners because they allege they will not be benefited by the building of the big ditch, which is designed to furnish drainage for from 8,000 to 10,000 acres of land in the northeastern part of the county. The case will probably be taken to the highest tribunal, no matter how it may go in the lower courts.

The Case of One of the Family.

A correspondent writes of the suicide of Samuel Magill, of Clinton, and says that Mr. Magill was the last of four brothers, two of whom died of consumption within the past year. The first one, Robert, also died of the same disease in 1871. In 1880 they came to Illinois and settled in Bloomington. At that time they were railroad contractors, but abor-tly after they left that city and came to Clinton, where they devoted their attention to farming and buying land. Magill Bros. was a very successful firm, and by industry and economy accumulated much of the world's wealth, representing to-day many valuable lands and property in Decatur county and elsewhere. About five months ago Samuel Magill Joseph business life and has since lived in retirement.
He was a man of unquestioned integrity, and of much value in the community in which he lived. Among business circles Clinton has sustained a loss that will be perceptibly felt, and from which it will take some time to recover.

Death of the Famous "Aztec."

"Aztec," Powers & Son's famous three-year-old running horse, died yesterday at Lexington, Ky., of lung fever. The news reached the owners in this city yesterday.
The owner of the horse was the late brother but brilliant, and a southern and western horseman were made to fear him because of his wonderful achievements at New Orleans, Memphis, Covington and Louisville. "Aztec" was sired by Aramis, first dam Dora by Pat Moore, and he was foaled on the Powers' stock farm near Clarksville. In the spring of the present year, "Aztec" was sold by auction. It was at New Orleans, in a field of 13 three-year-olds, when he ran second to Drake Carter, sold recently to Lordburg for $17,500.
Later, at Memphis, Aztec won the Past dures for all ages, and also the three-year-old stakes. He got off at Chicago, but lost on account of the mud. He was then brought home, and remained here until August, when he went to Covington, Ky., and won two big stakes, and two at Louisville, and the next day he ran his last race at Memphis, where he lost by a nose. Aztec was a very horse, and sold his own with the best spirit in the west. He had many staying qualities, having the endurance to tire out his competitors in a lot run of three-quarters of a mile, and could keep it up and go down again at a homestead. During the past fall Aztec's winnings aggregated about $10,000. The owners had been offered $20,000 for him. They feel quite badly over the death of their noted property, particularly Thomas Powers, who was a great admirer of Aztec. The runner will be buried at Lexington, and his small companion, Ardine, will be returned to this city.

Where is Strever?

Mr. D. M. Adams, of Friends Creek township, was in Decatur to-day making inquiries as to the whereabouts of Mr.
Samuel Strever, of Argenta, who on Saturday was reported by Argenta people as having been found with somewhere in the South. It is known that Mr. Strever, who had been South with a running mare in which J. P. Smallwood had an interest, had sold the animal for $1,000, and that on Friday last he was start from Memphis with the rider for Dallas, Texas, to deliver the mare, and no more than this could Mr. Adams learn.
Mr. A. doesn't think that Mr. Strever has met with any mishap, though he has had time to go to Dallas and come home Mrs. Strever is not yet greatly alarmed about her husband, and believes he will come home safe and sound in a day or so.

A poor woman, whose husband is sick, and who is in need of help, would be glad to do washing, or any other kind of work that could be done at her home, No. 929

Intensely Interesting.

Such is the play of "Cora, the Creole," to be given Friday night by Miss Lillian Spencer, the celebrated actress, supported by a powerful company. Said a Cincinnati paper:

Mr. Edward Chaybarg presented an excellent attraction at the opera house last evening, it being the celebrated French drama, "Cora, the Creole," a new version of "Article 47." Miss Lillian Spencer, one of the most talented ladies on the American stage, is the leading lady, and last evening rendered the difficult role of "Cora" and "Madame Gerard," fully sustaining the reputation she has established.
In the final scene the acting was particularly fine, and there is little room for errors in any part of the play. The entire support was excellent, and the drinking song introduced in the gambling received three encores.

Admission, 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats now on sale.

"The Milk Business."

Mr. Burrows—in reply to a card published in the Review, by Mr. Jacob Jones, we wish to say that our petition to the city council, asking that milkmen be regularly licensed, was hastily prepared only a few hours before the meeting, at which it was presented, and we were unable to see all engaged in the business. Mr.
Jones was not even that we were aware of,
and if he refused to sign, we don't know it. His intimation that "we took the step to cut him off from his business, is a mistake, as we never thought of interfering with him or any other regular milk man, and the license we ask would not cut out many poor families, who are only able to keep a cow by furnishing milk to their needing it, but the regular milkmen, who are engaged in the business, and a portion of our city's expenses are borne by those who, when pasture is good, milk plenty and cheap, and weather pleasant, will run their town and city of our legitimate trade, and then quit as soon as milk becomes scarce, and the weather becomes bad, and leave us to bear the burden through the cold and dreary winter months, with feed high, and the delivery of milk difficult and uncertain. A license will not apply to persons keeping a cow for their own use, and selling their surplus. If the license is put upon us, we will increase the price of our milk to its consequent. Our gain will result in our protection against such unfair trade into and upon our business, as we have above alluded to. We do not mean oppression to any one, nor do we intend that our action will affect prices.

Milk Men.

TULLER & PARKE.

The New Feed Store Firm.

Mr. V. H. Parke, who has been engaged in the feed business every winter for several years past, as a sort of side show to his large trade in implements, has concluded to enlarge his facilities in the former line and to make it a permanent business. For that purpose he has taken in a partner, in the person of Capt. B. H.
Tuller, and the new firm will be known as Tuller & Parke. With the very best of facilities for handling feed of all kinds, abundant storage room and capital enough to handle stuff in large quantities, the firm starts in with every requisite necessary to success. They will buy and sell corn, oats, rye, screenings, balot hay and straw, and, indeed, everything in the feed line, and will deliver the same to customers in any part of the city. A specialty will be made of ground or chopped feed, and parties desiring to have ground corn, rye, oats or screenings, can be accommodated. It is the intention of the firm to keep feed in quantities such as will enable them to sell at wholesale retail—in fact, they propose to make their place feed headquarters, and to keep on hand at all times whatever a customer may call for in their line. In addition to the feed business, Messrs. Tuller & Parke expect to deal also in hard and soft coal, and eventually in wood, and will handle these commodities in quantities. The establishment of such a business in Decatur will prove of great convenience to the public, and the well-known business qualifications of the members of the firm give assurance that they will meet the wants of the public as completely as it is possible to do. The business of Messrs.
Tuller & Parke will in no way interfere with the agricultural implement trade of Mr. Parke, which will be continued by him at the same place.
